If We Knew.

If we knew, when walking thoughtless,
Through the crowded dusty way,
That some pearl of wondrous whiteness
Close beside our pathway lay,
We would pause where now we hasten,
We would oftener look around,
Lest our careless feet should trample
Some rare jewels in the ground.

If we knew what forms were fainting
For the shade which we should fling;
If we knew what lips are parching
For the water we should bring,
We would haste with eager footsteps,
We would work with willing hands,
Bearing cooling cups of water,
Planting rows of standing palms.

If we knew where feet were weary,
Climbing up the hills of pain,
By the world cast out as evil—
Poor repentant Magdalenes—
We no more would dare to scorn them
With our Pharisaic pride,
Wrapping close our robes around us,
Passing to the other side.

If we knew when friends around,
Closely press to say "Good-by,"
Which among the lips that kiss us
First beneath the flowers should lie,
When like rain upon their faces
Fell our bitter blinding tears,
Tender words of love eternal
We would whisper in their ears.

Holy Father in the heavens!
Nearer to the perfect day,
Through the shining track of duty,
Wilt Thou guide us on our way;
When these walls of clay shall crumble,
When this mortal breath shall cease,
Wilt Thou crown us in Thy Kingdom
With thy own "exceeding peace!"

POLITICAL PHASES IN THE SOUTH—THE NEGRO ELEMENT.—Our newly-elected fellow-citizens of African descent appear to be turning the tables nicely on the Radicals and Radical carpet-baggers. At Raleigh, North Carolina, for example, a special train of cars from the south-eastern part of the State brought up to the State Democratic Convention a club of Democratic negroes in company with a number of delegates. We hear of similar movements throughout all the South of the colored people flocking to the Democratic standard, and should not be surprised to see a general stampede from the Radicals and to the Democrats in the Presidential and Congressional elections. All the signs of the times point to such a result. It is just what we have anticipated and predicted. The negroes begin to see that the Radicals have cheated them. Instead of getting the lands and property of the whites by a wholesale system of confiscation and transfer to themselves, as promised, the negroes find the Radical Northern adventurers and carpet-baggers are only after their labor and votes. These Radicals have shown the cloven foot; have shown they care nothing about the negros, and that all they want is to use the poor Africans to make money and get the offices. What more natural, then, than that these negroes should turn to their old masters and listen to the friendly voice of those among whom they were born, and with whom their future interests and welfare are identified?

This growing and general defection of the negroes from the Radicals is creating a division and a great deal of excitement among that people. At first, as we said, they were nearly all going with the Radicals; now colored Democratic clubs and organizations are springing up all round. Of course those who still adhere to the Radicals are very bitter and hostile. At Raleigh they made riotous demonstrations for the purpose of mobbing the negro Democratic club; but their object was defeated by the temperate and moderate conduct of the white people, and through Governor Holden calling out the military. Amid all this excitement and riotous conduct of the Radical negroes, the greatest enthusiasm in favor of the Convention and the Democrats prevailed. To show the wisdom and moderation of the Democrats, both white and black, (who, of course, were in a large majority there at that time,) we notice that when a Radical Senator and carpet-bagger named Estes tore down a lithograph picture of Seymour and Blair, which was posted in the Yarborough House, nobody chastised him for his conduct, though many Democrats witnessed it. This shows the Democrats to be as moderate as they are earnest. They are bent on carrying the election, and will not be provoked to violence by the outrages of the Radicals. They are determined not to give the Radical press a chance of howling at them, and calling them incurable rebels. We call the attention of the Radical organs to this admirable and forbearing conduct of the Southern white people, in contrast with that of the Radical carpet-baggers and their deluded tools among the poor negroes. This is one of the recent phases of the political revolution that is going on in the South. From all appearances, the reaction that has set in will sweep over the Southern States, and the Radicals will find themselves next November left out in the cold.—[New York Herald.

A TELEGRAM from Salt Lake gives the following estimate of the crops in Utah: Wheat 830,000 bushels; corn, 115,000 bushels; potatoes, 700,000 bushels; sorghum, 130,000 gallons. The grasshoppers caused more damage this year than any previous season. The entire crop, in some counties, has been destroyed, while in other counties one-third has been lost; but, owing to the large quantity of land under cultivation, cereals are estimated equal to last year, while cotton will be in excess of last year's product. The fruit and grape crop is light, except in the southern portion of the Territory.

LEARNING.—Seldom have I seen much learning and ostentation go together. It is when the sun is rising and setting that he maketh the longest shadows; at mid-day, when he is the highest, none at all. It is a good old maxim "to be rather than to seem." I would rather applaud myself for having much that I show not, than that others should applaud me for attempting to show that I have not.

A HARTFORD man recently went to a neighbor and said to him: "I am told that you are willing to sell the piece of land that joins my lot." "Why, yes, I would like to sell it to some good citizen." "Well, what makes a good citizen in your judgment?" "A good citizen is a man that does not keep hens," was the reply.

The Forsaken Girl.

BY JOHN G. WHITTIER.

They parted—as all lovers part—
She with her wrong and broken heart;
But he, rejoicing he is free,
Bounds like the captive from his chain,
And wilfully believing she
Hath found her liberty again.

Is there an act which deserves deep and bitter condemnation, it is that of trifling with the inestimable gift of woman's affection. The female heart may be compared to a delicate harp—over which the breathings of early affection wander, until each tender chord is awakened to tones of ineffable sweetness. It is the music of the soul which is thus called forth—a music sweeter than the fall of fountains or the song of Houri in the Moslem's Paradise. But woe for the delicate fashioning of that harp, if a change pass over the love which first called forth its hidden harmonies. Let neglect and cold unkindness sweep over its delicate strings, and they will break one after another, slowly perhaps, but surely. Unvisited and unrequieted by the light of love, the soul-like melody will be hushed in the stricken bosom, like the mysterious harmony of the Egyptian statue, before the coming of sunrise.

I have been wandering among the graves—the lonely and solemn graves. I love at times to do so. I feel a melancholy not unallied to pleasure in communing with the resting place of those who have gone before me—to go forth alone among the thronged tombstones, rising from every grassy undulation like the ghostly sentinels of the departed. And when I kneel above the narrow mansion of one whom I have known and loved in life, I feel a strange assurance that the spirit of the sleeper is near me a viewless and ministering angel. It is a beautiful philosophy, which has found its way unsought for and mysteriously into the silence of my heart—and if it be only a dream—the unreal imagery of fancy—I pray God that I may never awaken from the beautiful delusion.

I have been this evening by the grave of Emily. It has a plain, white tombstone, half hidden by flowers, and you may read its mournful epitaph in the clear moonlight which falls upon it like the smile of an angel, through an opening into the drooping branches. Emily was a beautiful girl—the fairest of our village maidens. I think I see her now, as she looked when the loved one—the idol of her affections was near her with his smile of conscious triumph and exulting love. She had then seen but eighteen summers, and her whole being seemed woven of the dream of her first passion. The object of her love was a proud and wayward being—whose haughty spirit never relaxed its habitual sternness, save when he found himself in the presence of the young and beautiful creature, who had trusted her all on the "venture of her vow," and who loved him with the confiding earnestness of a pure and devoted heart. Nature had deprived him of the advantages of outward grace and beauty: and it was the abiding consciousness of this which gave to his intercourse with society a character of pride and sternness. He felt himself in some degree removed from his fellow men by the partial fashioning of Nature; and he scorned to seek a nearer affinity. His mind was of an exalted bearing, and prodigal of beauty. The flowers of poetry were in his imagination a perpetual blossoming; and it was to his intellectual beauty that Emily knelt down—bearing to the altar of her idol the fair flowers of her affection—even as the dark-eyed daughters of the ancient Gheber spread out the offerings from the gardens of the East upon the altar of the sun.

There is a surpassing strength in a love like that of Emily's—it has nothing gross, nor low, nor earthly in its yearnings—it has its source in the deeper fountains of the human heart, and is such as the redeemed and sanctified of earth might feel for one another in the fair land of the spirits—alas that such be unrequitted, or turned back in coldness and darkness upon the crushed heart of its giver!

They parted, Emily and her lover, but not before they had vowed eternal constancy to each other. The one returned to the quiet of her home, to dream over again the scenes of her early passion, to count with untiring eagerness the hours of seperation, and to weep over the long interval of "hope deferred." The other went with a strong heart to mingle with the world, girded with pride and impelled onward by ambition. He found the world cold, and callous, and selfish, and his own spirit insensibly took the hue of those around him. He shut his eyes upon the past, it was two pure and mildly beautiful for the sterner gaze of his manhood. He forgot the passion of boyhood, all beautiful and holy as it was, he turned not back to the young, and lovely, and devoted girl, who had poured out to him in the confiding earnestness of woman's confidence the wealth of her affection. He came not back to fulfill the vow which he had plighted.

Slowly and painfully the knowledge of her lover's unfaithfulness came over the sensitive heart of Emily. She sought for a time to shut out the horrible suspicion from her mind—she half doubted the evidence of her own senses—she could not believe that he was a traitor, for her memory had treasured every token of his affection—every impassioned word and every endearing smile of his tenderness. But the truth came at last—the doubtful spectre which had long haunted her, and from which she had turned away, as if it were sin to look upon it, now stood before her a dreadful and unescapable vision of reality. There was one burst of passionate tears, the overflow of that fountain of affliction which quenches the last ray of hope in the desolate bosom, and she was calm, for the struggle was over, and she gazed steadily and with the awful confidence of one whose hopes are not of earth, upon the dark Valley of Death, whose shadow was already around her.

It was a beautiful evening of Summer, that I saw her for the last time. The sun was just setting behind a long line of blue and undulating hills, touching their tall summits with a radiance like the halo which circles the dazzling brow of an Angel—and all nature had put on the rich graniture of greenness and blossom. As I approached the quiet and secluded dwelling of the once happy Emily, I found the door of the little parlor thrown open, and a female voice of sweetness which could hardly be said to belong to earth, stole out upon the soft Summer air. It was like the breathing of an Æolian lute to the gentlest visitation of the zephyr. Involuntary I paused to listen, and these words—I shall never forget them—came upon my ear like the low and melancholy music which we sometimes hear in dreams:

"Oh—no—I do not fear to die,
For hope and Faith are bold,
And life is but a weariness—
And earth is strangely cold—
In view of Death's pale solitude
My spirit hath not mourned—
'Tis kinder than forgotten love,
Of friendship unreturned!

And I could pass the shadowy land
In rapture all the while—
If one who now is far away,
Were near me with his smile.
It seems a dreary thing to die
Forgotten and alone—
Unheeded by our dearest love—
The smiles and tears of one!

Oh! plant my grave with pleasant flowers
The fairest of the fair—
The very flowers he loved to twine
At twilight in my hair.
Perchance he yet may visit there
And shed above my bier
The holiest dew of funeral flowers,
Affection's kindly tear!"

It was the voice of Emily ——. She was leaning on the sofa as I entered the apartment, her thin white hand resting on her Bible. She rose and welcomed me with a melancholy smile. It played over her features, for a moment flushing her cheek with a slight and sudden glow, and then passed away, leaving in its stead the wanness and mournful beauty of the dying. It has been said that death is always terrible to look upon. But to the stricken Emily the presence of the destroyer was like the ministration of an angel of light and holiness. She was passing off to the land of spirits like the melting of a sunset cloud into the blue of heaven—stealing from existence like the strain of ocean music when it dies away slowly and sweetly upon the moonlit waters.

A few days after, I stood by the grave of Emily. The villagers had gathered together one and all, to pay the last tribute of respect and affection to the lovely sleeper. They mourned her loss with a deep and sincere lamentation—they marvelled that one so young and so beloved should yield herself up to melancholy, and perish in the spring-time of her existence. But they knew not the hidden arrow which had rankled in her bosom—the slow and secret withering of her heart. She had borne the calamity in silence, in the uncomplaining quietude of one, who felt that there are woes which may not ask for sympathy—afflictions, which, like the canker concealed in the heart of some fair blossoms, are discovered only by the untimely decay of their victim.

THE SUBLIMITY OF IMPUDENCE.—Henry Edgerton, in his Napa speech, took occasion to indulge in some very low abuse of Gen. Frank P. Blair, the candidate for the Vice Presidency. Among other things, he said that Gen. Blair was a miscreant and a traitor. We can scarcely imagine a more refined specimen of impudence than this. This man Edgerton, during the entire war manifested his devotion to his country by staying at home. After the war commenced—after the battle of Bull Run had been fought and lost, he ran for Congress on the State Democratic ticket, and thereby, according to his own logic, contributed to the "embarrassment of the Administration." He never left the Democratic party until after he had found by sore experience that office was no longer attainable in that organization. No man in this State has heaped upon the Republican party more coarse and savage abuse than Henry Edgerton, and that, too, after the war commenced. No man has a more ridiculous and contemptible political record. With the instinct of a buzzard, smelling out his carcass food, he has smelt out and rushed into whatever party has promised him office and pay. Frank Blair was one of the very first men to enlist in the Union army, and only left it when the war ended in the triumph of the national arms. With signal and gallant bravery he fought for what he believed to be the right. He contributed largely to the victories about which Mr. Edgerton so eloquently spoke. No man did more, and to no one man is more credit due for the result obtained. And yet, this man Edgerton, this political time-server, this man who has been "everything by turns and nothing long," calls Blair a traitor. The only reason why Mr. Edgerton did not blush at his own impudence, is because he has long since passed the blushing period. The only difference between these two men is, that General Blair is an honest patriot who is now trying to secure to the people the rights for which he fought, while Mr. Edgerton is a professional politician, who supports the party that pays him best, maligns, slanders and traduces the characters of gentlemen who are in every possible respect infinitely his superiors.—[Napa Reporter.

SEE.—A landlord in Maine, by the name of Cram, has his name on the plates used at his table. A bulky, though evidently hungry individual, after waiting impatiently at the dinner-table the other day, for the raising of the "kivers," after soup, cast his eyes upon his plate and exclaimed with a drawling growl: "Cram! Well, just bring along yer vittles, and see if I don't do it." A roar of laughter followed from the guests.

TROUBLED.—There is a fellow in Washington who is constantly in trouble. If he wears trowsers the police arrest him on suspicion that he is a woman in disguise. When he dons petticoats they arrest him on suspicion that he is a man. He had better give up both styles.

THE number of postage stamps made by the National Bank Note Company the past year was about four hundred millions. The number of three cent stamps used is about one million a day. The cost of printing, perforating, gumming and packing the stamps, is twelve cents a thousand.

THERE is one case of courtship in East Lynn, Connecticut, that has been going on for more than forty-five years, and during that time, with a very few exceptions, the gentleman has called on his intended on each alternate Sunday evening.

TROUBLE IN GEORGIA.—Conflicting accounts of a terrible riot in Georgia have been received by telegraph this week. The riot occurred in the south-western portion of the State at Camilla, a town in Mitchell county. The mob, composed principally of negroes and led by two Radicals, entered the town and demanded the surrender of John S. Johns, who presented himself, when one hundred guns were leveled at him and a bloody fight ensued. The mob, numbering 450, were put to flight and pursued five miles. Seventy-five to one hundred persons are reported to have been killed. The cause of the disturbance has not been definitely stated, but it is fair to presume from the tone of the dispatches that it was incited by unprincipled Radicals.

ROSENCRANS.—When an eminent and patriotic Union General seeks a conference with his late adversaries in arms, in the interests of peace, his mission is derided and his motives impugned. * * * Even respectable and responsible journals attempt to make fun of the purpose, speaking of the eminent Union General as a benevolent, well meaning gentlemen, without much pretention or knowledge of affairs.—[Golden City.

Had he, instead of attempting a mission of peace, but gained a victory on the field, what an able soldier he would have been.—[Review.

Had you, instead of sneering at a patriotic officer, but carried your musket on the field of battle, what an able critic you would be.

SHOT DEAD.—James Murdock, proprietor of the Union Hotel at Woodland, was shot down and killed, behind his own counter, a few days since, by one John Hawkins, a workman on the Central Pacific Railroad, with whom he had had a previous difficulty. The assassin is under arrest.

The above item is going the rounds of the press in this State. It is true except in some particulars. The name of the man who was killed was not Murdock; the name of the assassin is not Hawkins; the Union Hotel is not located in this place; nobody has been shot down and killed here, and nobody is under arrest on such a charge.

HON. JAMES A. JOHNSON, Democratic candidate for Congress from the Third District, has been canvassing Mendocino county this week. He has a number of appointments in Humboldt, Klamath and Del Norte counties to meet before the campaign closes. Mr. Johnson has proven himself a faithful Representative of his constituents, and we predict that he will be re-elected by an increased majority.

HEUSTON, HASTINGS & Co.—This deservedly popular firm is extending its reputation far and wide. They are unquestionably the most fashionable clothiers on the Pacific coast. Their monthly sales—resulting from a strict attention to the wants of their customers—are immense. All the latest styles can be found at their establishment in San Francisco.

FRIGHTENED.—A Radical exchange says: "Every man who votes for Seymour and Blair extends an invitation for bloodshed in our land." Such silly utterances will turn no voter aside from his path of duty in supporting those candidates, to save his country from the ruin of Radicalism.

FIRE.—We learn that the residence of Mr. Abdel, at Vernon, Sutter county, was burned down one day last week. The fire was the result of accident. A fine telescope, worth several hundred dollars, was consumed in the flames. Total loss about $2,000.

WHO?—Who apologized for the assassination of Lincoln?—[Radical Exchange.

The Radicals who declared that he was removed by "act of Providence to give place for Andrew Johnson, the second Jackson."

SERIOUS CHARGE.—John Schannel, an old man and father of a family, was arrested in San Francisco a few days since, on a charge of committing a rape on Mary Ann Haley, aged fourteen years.

GRAIN MARKET.—Latest advices from the San Francisco market quote wheat, best quality, at from $1 85 to $1 90. Barley from $2 07½ to $2 27½.

NATURALIZATION.—Eighty foreigners were granted papers of citizenship by the San Francisco Courts, on Wednesday last.

No Time for Delay.

Every voter who has the good of his country at heart and desires to see the land redeemed from the reckless sway of Radical fanatics should be up and doing. This is no time to falter. But five weeks remain before one of the most important elections ever held in America will be decided. Questions are to be determined at the polls involving the perpetuity or hopeless destruction of the Government, the preservation of the Constitution and the Union, or disunion and anarchy, liberty or despotism, the establishment of the rights of the people or the enslavement of the masses, the peace and happiness of American citizens, or confusion, misrule and disorder for another period of four years. Every voter who favors the election of Seymour, the statesman and patriot, and who wishes to defeat the time-serving leaders of the Radical party, has a duty to perform. Not a vote must be lost. The Democracy, buoyant with hope and confident of victory, must swell their majorities everywhere in order that the enemy may not only be defeated, but properly rebuked for the reckless extravagance and unfaithful stewardship exhibited in the affairs of the Government. Unscrupulous men, in secret meetings, are endeavoring to checkmate the wishes of the people by prolonging the term of Radical power. These secret proceedings of corrupt men for unworthy purposes must be met by the united, determined action of every true patriot. In every precinct in the county Democrats should hold meetings, appoint committees and do good work in the cause from now till the polls are closed on election day. Are you registered? Is your Democratic neighbor registered also? Attend to this matter. Apply at once and in person to see if your names are properly registered and enrolled. Have your names properly placed on the poll lists of your respective precincts and see that no duty devolving upon you as an American citizen is left undone. Again we urge upon all the necessity of vigorous action. The patriot who professes devotion to his country can well afford to spend a month's time to secure, beyond the possibility of a doubt, the reward of his untiring exertion in so noble a cause.

SMALL-POX.—This horrible and deadly pestilence is reported to be on the increase in San Francisco and some other places in which it has appeared. Without desiring to create any unnecessary alarm, we would urge upon all to use the proper precautions to prevent its spread. An excellent article in the September No. of the California Medical Gazette strongly advocates vaccination and re-vaccination, and closes in these words:

There is not a subject in the whole range of the science of medicine upon which is concentrated such a wonderful unanimity of enlightened medical opinion, as there is upon the perfect safety and efficacy of vaccination and re-vaccination.

How in this age of the world, then, in a country which prides itself upon its progress and intelligence, an epidemic of small-pox is allowed to proceed in its devastating career, is a problem whose solution can only be found in the folly, perversity, recklessness or prejudice of mankind.

The first case rings the alarm, and the rumor sweeps swiftly over an entire city, that the disease of nameless horror and filth is among us. Delays, always dangerous, are here criminally so. It is our plain and manifest duty instantly to avail ourselves of the protective influence afforded by vaccination, and thus individually and collectively stamp out the disease. Of those who died during the present epidemic we will not speak—"De mortuis nil nisi bonum;" but for the living—those who have taken the small pox and recovered—we cannot say we feel any particular amount of sympathy. That they are barely tolerated by their relatives and friends, and are repulsive to the public, that their faces are seamed, pitted and deformed, they have themselves alone to thank; and if in the future, with the energies of resistance dissipated by the poison of variola, diseases come upon them, which, but for their carelessness or ignorance, might have remained latent indefinitely, nor materially shortened their days, the responsibility falls upon themselves and upon no one else.

ANNUAL CONFERENCE.—The Annual Conference of the M. E. Church, recently in session at San Francisco, made the following appointments for the Sacramento District:

J. P. Hill, P. E—Sacramento, Sixth Street, J. W. Ross; H Street, J. M. Hinman. Binghampton, W. Marrow. Sacramento Circuit, G. Larkin. Silveyville, W. S. Corwin. Woodland and Cacheville, W. C. Curry. To Whom it May Concern!

The "Continental Life Insurance Company," in their advertisements of this date, boast that they have declared a dividend to their Policy-Holders of 40 per cent. The "Continental" has not declared a dividend to its Policy-Holders. That Company did not commence business until May, 1866, and is consequently but two years in existence. No Company organized on the Stock Plan has ever declared a dividend in that time to its Policy-Holders, and by the charter of that Company, dividends to the Policy-holders are not available until the payment of the fourth annual premium. The "Continental" has a capital stock of $100,000, upon which the Stock-holders received 7 per cent. interest, and 12½ per cent. of the net profits of the Company, every year. The dividend of $28,000 paid by the "Continental" January 1868, was to the Stock-holders, and not to the Policy-holders. This dividend was 28 per cent. on their capital stock of $100,000. When it is taken into consideration that the "Continental" is but little over two years old, we may consider that it is doing well for the Stock-holders; but how about the Policy-holders, who are paying their money to support a body of capitalists?

The above facts are taken from the Official Report of the Insurance Commissioner for the State of New York.

There are no stock-holders to get the largest share of its profits, as in the "Continental," "North America," "Manhattan," and other credit Companies. Beware of part Note and Credits! See what the following Companies owe on (useless) Premium Notes: Continental, organized in 1866, $275,336 44; New England, organized in 1844, $1,843,497 84; North Western, organized in 1859, $625,202. Some of these Companies have lately assumed the grave and questionable responsibility of advertising under their officers' signatures that their notes or loans would be offset by dividends. (See Barnes' Report for 1868.) In order to cancel their notes by dividends, they would have to assess their Policy-holders from 40 to 77 per cent.

Summons.

IN the District Court of the Sixth Judicial District of the State of California, in and for the county of Yolo. RACHEL L. WELLS, plaintiff, vs. JAMES WELLS, defendant. Action brought in the District Court of the Sixth Judicial District of the State of California, in and for the county of Yolo, and the complaint filed in said county of Yolo, in the office of the Clerk of said District Court.

The People of the State of California send greeting to JAMES WELLS, defendant: You are hereby required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the District Court of the Sixth Judicial District of the State of California, in and for the county of Yolo, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days (exclusive of the day of service) after the service on you of this summons, if served within this county; or, if served out of this county, but in this District, within twenty days; otherwise, within forty days—or judgment by default will be taken against you, according to the prayer of said complaint.

The said action is brought to obtain a decree of said Court for the dissolution of the bonds of matrimony heretofore existing between plaintiff and said defendant. And you are hereby notified that if you fail to appear and answer the said complaint as above required, the plaintiff will apply to the Court for the relief therein demanded.

Given under my hand and seal of the District Court of the Sixth Judicial District of the State of California, in and for the county of Yolo, this 6th day of August, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and sixty-eight.

Probate Notice.

IN the matter of the Estate of JOHN G. STEWART, deceased. In the Probate Court of Yolo county, California. It appearing to the Court by the petition presented and filed by Noble Clark, the Administrator of the estate of John G. Stewart, deceased, praying for an order to sell the real estate, that it is necessary to sell the real estate to pay the debts outstanding unpaid against the deceased, and the debts, expenses and charges of the administration: It is therefore ordered by the Court that all persons interested in the said estate appear before the said Probate Court, on MONDAY, the 19th day of OCTOBER, A. D. 1868, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon of said day, at the Court-room of said Probate Court, in the town of Woodland, in said Yolo county, to show cause why an order should not be granted to said Administrator to sell the "Buckeye Ranch" of the real estate of the deceased; and that a copy of this order be published at least four successive weeks in the YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT, a newspaper printed and published in said Yolo county.

TOWN AND COUNTY MATTERS.

REGISTER.—Voters should remember that only a few days more will pass before it will be too late to get their names placed on the Great Register. Those who have not already attended to this important matter should delay not another day. The issues to be decided in the coming contest are of a nature that ought to command the serious attention of every one who feels an interest in the welfare of his country. Let no Democrat be found lagging in the rear when a question is to be determined which involves liberty or despotism, Union or disunion. No patriot should waive his right to cast a ballot for Seymour and Blair. Leading Democrats should make it their duty to urge upon every unregistered Democrat the necessity of acting without further delay. Below we give the rules adopted by the State Board of Registry for the guidance of County Clerks and Boards of Registration in registering and enrolling voters. It will be seen that in the matter of transfer from one county to another it is not necessary to apply by affidavit or in person, but the transfer may be easily accomplished by letter or request of any respectable person: “Resolved, That for the purpose of avoiding burdensome expense to voters, the following rules and regulations be adopted, under the 88th Section of the Registry Act, for the government of County Clerks and Clerks of Elections: First—That no personal application need be made for a transfer of the name of a voter, either on the Great Register or Poll List, but such applications may be made by any respectable third person, and the certificate of transfer of registration may be presented to the County Clerk of the county to which the voter has removed, by any person for him, and no affidavit or personal application for registration in the latter county shall be required, unless the County Clerk has reason to suspect the good faith of the application. Second—That it shall be the duty of each Clerk of Election to copy from the next preceeding Poll List of his precinct, the name of every voter who is not known by him to have removed from the precinct, or to have died or become disqualified.

GROWTH OF WOODLAND.—The rapid changes that have recently transpired in this locality cannot fail to strike the observer with surprise. Only a few years have elapsed since the rich agricultural lands of Yolo in their wild, uncultivated state presented but little attraction to the settler. The erroneous belief that prevailed in an early day concerning the adaptability of the soil and climate for the production of cereals, fruits and other treasures of nature, seemed for a time, at least, to have doomed these broad acres to serve only as camping grounds of the traveler and a grazing field for herds of wild cattle. But the plowshare has done its work, and a land teeming with resources unsurpassed in richness and abundance is now blessing the hand of industry. In the forest of oaks, where not long since a few rude dwellings were erected by adventurous settlers in search of temporary homes, gradually the settlement has increased in population, schools have been established, public buildings erected, and in every respect the energy and enterprise of the villagers have been keeping pace with the rapid advancement of the sturdy farmer. Such has been the progress of our “little town,” unscathed by fire, sword or plague, and favored by Providence in a manner that few other places have been, until now it has reached a point, in its still increasing prosperity, that commends itself to the pride of all who have been instrumental in building it up, as well as every one who feels an interest in the permanent welfare of the county. During the past Summer improvement has been more rapid than ever before. Buildings by the score have been erected, streets laid out, trade has increased and signs of prosperity are noticeable on every hand. At the present time a large number of builders and mechanics are steadily employed and the work goes on vigorously. If no misfortune should befall Woodland, the time will not be long before it will be mentioned as one of the most flourishing interior towns of the State.

LIFE INSURANCE.—The increase of the practice of Life Insurance within the last five years almost surpasses belief. The advantages offered by the system are so great that no one who knows them can fail to appreciate their value. The payment of a small sum annually guards a family from the possibility of want, and takes from the mind of every thoughtful and prudent man a great weight of anxiety and care. The system is advantageous to the rich and poor alike. No one is so rich that he may not die insolvent, and no one so poor that he cannot afford to protect his family from want. We publish this week the card of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York. This is the oldest Life Insurance Company in the United States and the largest in the world. It is thoroughly honest and reliable. During a business experience of twenty-seven years it has paid to its policy holders, in cash dividends, nearly thirteen million dollars. The next dividend will be paid on the first of February, 1869. It has paid claims by death of over nine million dollars, and has never litigated a claim. It has paid on the Pacific Coast, from 1861 to 1868, claims, by death, $295,303 to the families of the assured. We commend this Company to the favorable notice of our readers, and advise all who have not already done so, to secure a policy without delay. J. N. HOMANS, the gentlemanly agent for this Company, is now in town, and will canvass this county for that Company. *

DISTRICT SCHOOL.—We were present on Wednesday to witness the exercises at the District School, and were agreeably surprised at the evidences of rapid improvement in the various departments. In the higher department, presided over by J. F. Baker, there are at present about forty scholars in regular attendance. Sixty-three are in attendance in the intermediate department, in charge of J. M. Goode. In Miss Ruggles' primary department there are sixty-five, making in all one hundred and sixty-eight. The school is in a prosperous condition and it will doubtless become necessary soon to employ more teachers and provide more room to accommodate the pupils.

THE WEATHER.—The fog or smoke which has darkened the atmosphere for the past two weeks, continues to hover over the land and puzzle the multitude of philosophers who have attempted to account for its presence. According to our exchanges, a like visitation has been experienced all over the country west of the Rocky Mountains. Whatever may be the cause of so unusual a state of the atmosphere, it is certainly not very pleasant.

CAMPAIGN.—Great Meeting! Immense gathering and great enthusiasm manifested! The ladies of Woodland and Yolo county are still crowding the fine establishment of Fleishman & Kaufman, to satisfy their great curiosity and examine the daily arrival of the fine and splendid assortment of Dry Goods, consisting of the latest styles of dress goods, fancy goods, etc., etc. Call and see them. *

MASONIC HALL.—Workmen are engaged in excavating for the foundation of a Masonic Hall, near the corner of Main and Third streets. This building, when completed, will be quite an improvement in that locality.

SERIOUS ACCIDENT.—On Thursday last, while a number of workmen were engaged in building up the east wall of the new church in this place, a scaffold, upon which a quantity of brick and mortar had been deposited, gave way and precipitated three men, with the falling lumber, bricks and rubbish, to the joists on the ground floor, a distance of about twenty-three feet. They were all more or less injured, one of them very seriously. Their names are Michael O'Keefe, of San Francisco, hod carrier; P. Brown, hod carrier; and P. Riley, bricklayer; the two last named are from Sacramento. O'Keefe and Brown were both badly bruised, but their wounds are not considered dangerous. Riley was more unfortunate, and is now lying in a precarious condition at Baker's hotel. Drs. Pierson, Sprague and Geo. H. Jackson were in attendance and rendered medical aid to the sufferers.

TELEGRAPH.—A telegraph line is to be established between this place and Davisville, connecting thence with all parts of the State and Eastern cities. The stock in this line has already been taken by Fleishman & Kaufman, and the work will be commenced immediately. It is thought that communication will be complete in one month from date. The want of telegraphic communication has long been felt in this community and we congratulate our citizens that so important a matter will no longer be neglected.

FINE FRUIT.—Our thanks are due to E. R. Lowe and family, of Cacheville, for a box of fine fruits, consisting of almonds, pears and peaches, received yesterday. The fruit was grown in Mr. Lowe's orchard, and will certainly compare favorably in size and flavor with that of any country in the world. The peaches averaged nearly a pound in weight and measured from ten to twelve inches in circumference. Such courtesies are recorded among the pleasant reminiscences of the printer's life.

IMPROVEMENT.—Gray & Freeman have again found it necessary to make more room for their increasing stock of dry goods, etc. The commodious hall in the second story of their establishment has been converted into a carpet store and receptacle for domestics and other heavy goods. A stairway has been constructed from the lower floor to the hall, which is not only a decided improvement, but a fine specimen of workmanship. The stairs were built by S. R. Smith, of Knight's Landing.

APPOINTMENTS.—Hon. N. Greene Curtis and Hon. A. Compte, Jr., will speak at Knight's Landing on Thursday evening, Oct. 8th; at Cacheville, Friday evening, the 9th, and at Buckeye, Saturday evening, the 10th. J. Douglas Hambleton, of San Francisco, will address the citizens of Yolo on the political issues of the day at Woodland on some evening between the 10th and 20th of October. Due notice will be given.

GOOD BARGAIN.—A few days since J. D. Stevens, of this county, drove his buggy team to Sacramento and while there met with John Shaw, an over-zealous Radical, who proposed to purchase the team for $500 and pay the same when it is officially announced that California gives a majority of votes for Seymour and Blair. Stevens accepted the offer and says he has a few more teams to dispose of on the same terms.

NOT ON THE BILLS.—At the show on Wednesday evening, a precocious youth only about three years old, who was present with his parents as a spectator, created great merriment in the audience by entering the ring and performing a number of gyrations in imitation of the comical “Japs.” The little fellow was successful in bringing down the house and seemed delighted with the fun.

AN OMEN.—At the show on Thursday evening, the artist exhibited a magnified image of the silent General, on the canvas, and attempted to deliver a eulogy on the Radical candidate. In the midst of his remarks, however, the lights went out and the General suddenly disappeared from view. A voice in the audience exclaimed: “So shall it be in November. Amen.”

JAPANESE TROUPE.—This troupe gave an entertainment under canvas in this place on Wednesday evening. The show was well attended and gave general satisfaction. Some of the youthful performers exhibited a proficiency in training rarely equalled. The proprietor, E. J. Baldwin, promises to give another entertainment here on next Saturday evening, Oct. 3d, with an entire change of programme. We predict a crowded house.

BETTING.—During the State Fair there has been considerable betting on elections, at Sacramento. About $25,000 have been wagered by Democrats of this county in sums ranging from $100 to $1000. There may be some doubts about the morality of betting, but it is very certain to be profitable to those who stake their money on Seymour and Blair.

RUMOR.—It is rumored that a Radical in this place has $2,000 which he is desirous of betting on the result of the election in this State. If this is true, we are authorized to state that he can be accommodated on short notice by calling at this office and making known his wishes.

I.O.G.T.—The Grand Lodge of the Independent Order of Good Templars of this State convenes at Sacramento on Tuesday next. Woodland Lodge No. 237 will be represented by R. P. Davidson, H. C. Grover, C. P. Sprague, E. Giddings, C. E. St. Louis, Mrs. E. L. Fiske and Miss Lizzie Frost.

MAGIC LANTERN.—An exhibition of “Polytechnic Views” was given at Templar Hall on Thursday evening. A crowded audience quietly departed with elongated countenances at the close of the performance, and matters wore an aspect suggestive of a huge “sell.”

DEMOCRATIC MEETING AT DAVISVILLE.—There will be a meeting of the Democracy of Yolo at Davisville on Saturday evening, Oct. 3d. Col. Thomas J. Henley and other distinguished speakers will address the meeting.

ENROLL! ENROLL!—The Board of Registration will be in session at Heath's Hall today, when an opportunity will be afforded to all who wish to have their names enrolled as voters of Woodland precinct.

WRITING SCHOOL.—Prof. J. Buck, teacher of Spencerian penmanship, has returned to Woodland and opened an evening writing school at the District School-house.

FROM the Army Hospital; the bloody battle field; the mansion of the rich and the humble abode of the poor—from the office and the sacred desk; from the mountain top, distant valley and far-off islands of the ocean—from every nook and corner of the civilized world, is pouring in the evidence of the astonishing effects of DRAKE'S PLANTATION BITTERS. Thousands upon thousands of letters like the following may be seen at our office: “I have been in the Army Hospital for fourteen months, speechless and nearly dead. At Alton, Ill., they give me a bottle of Plantation Bitters. Three bottles have made me well again.
C. H. NLAUTE.” *

TO HEADS OF FAMILIES.—Are your little ones subject to croup? If so, don't fail to use NEWELL'S PULMONARY SYRUP. A few doses given in time MAY SAVE THE LIFE OF A DARLING CHILD. Do not fail to have it on hand, if you would be safe and free from anxiety.

ELECTRO SILICON.—This curious and valuable substance is confidently claimed to be the BEST ARTICLE ever discovered for cleaning and polishing Gold, Silver and Plated Ware, and all smooth metallic surfaces, of whatever description, including kitchen utensils of tin, copper, brass, steel, etc.

NEWELL'S

THE NEW

WEED

SEWING MACHINE!

Just completed, in SOLID STEEL MACHINERY, and combining in ONE the good of ALL!

This most enterprising Company has certainly brought out

THE BEST SEWING MACHINE EVER MADE!

And indeed is the ONLY NEW Sewing Machine, of any name, manufactured for the last eight years. Even a superficial observer can easily see that it surpasses all others, at least in the simplicity and durability of its machinery, and its remarkable

EASE OF MOTION AND MANAGEMENT.

It has few pieces, and all of steel. It makes the complete “Lock Stitch,” the same on both sides, which will not ravel. Every Machine is warranted to sew from and of course can never be got out of order by “hard sewing.” ☞ All repairs free of charge. Prices same as others.

Thinest Lace, to Double Harness Leather!

PLEASE NOTICE.

The claims of the Florence Company for the First Premium at the great Paris Exposition of 1867, though seeming true in letter, is really false in spirit and intent, and calculated greatly to deceive the public. Although it did receive the Silver Medal—that being the highest award given—it was not awarded the FIRST RANK! This was awarded the Weed Sewing Machine, and to the WEED only, as being “first in the order of merit.” The second place was given to an European Machine, and only the third to the Florence! But the claim of the Wheeler & Wilson Company, at this Fair, is a great outrage, both as to letter and spirit; at least so much of it as pertains to their Gold Medal upon their Family Machine, which, to speak plain, is purely imaginary, they having received—as is well known—their Gold Medal on their “Button-hole Machine,” but nothing at all on their “Family Machine;” not even a bronze medal, nor indeed (what is worse) even an “honorable mention.” (See official report.) See also, as to the new WEED Sewing Machine, the returns of the State Fairs of Pennsylvania, Illinois, New Hampshire and New York, for 1867, at each of which the NEW WEED “F. F.” Sewing Machine was pronounced the BEST, and received the highest premium given. And so also at other Fairs, and indeed wherever the Company shall choose to exhibit the “strong points” of this really magnificent Machine.

The Reasons for Insuring

—IN THE—

NEW ENGLAND MUTUAL

Life Insurance Company,

OF BOSTON.

By the Acts of Massachusetts, incorporated into the General Statutes of 1860 and 1864, a Policy of Life Insurance for the benefit of a Married Woman, or any person or persons specified, goes to them independently of the debts and liabilities of the party who effects the policy.

An Act to Regulate the Forfeiture of Policies of Life Insurance.

Be it Enacted, etc., as follows:

SECTION 1.—No Policy of Insurance on Life, hereafter issued by any Company chartered by the authority of this Commonwealth, shall be forfeited or become void by the non-payment of premium thereon, any further than regards the right of the party insured therein to have it continued in force beyond a certain period, to be determined as follows, to-wit: The net value of the policy, when the premium becomes due and is not paid, shall be ascertained, according to the “combined experience” or “actuaries'” rate of mortality, with interest at four per cent. per annum. After deducting from such net value any indebtedness to the company or notes held by the company against the insured, which notes if given for premium shall then be canceled, four-fifths of what remains shall be considered as a net single premium of temporary insurance, and the term for which it will insure shall be determined according to the age of the party at the time of the lapse of the premium, and the assumptions of mortality and interest aforesaid.

SECTION 2.—If the death of the party occur within the term of temporary insurance covered by the value of the policy, as determined in the previous section, and if no condition of the insurance, other than the payment of premium shall have been violated by the insured, the company shall be bound to pay the amount of the policy the same as if there had been no lapse of premium, anything in the policy to the contrary notwithstanding: provided, however, that notice of the claim and proof of the death shall be submitted to the company within nine, ty days after decease; and provided, also, that the company shall have the right to deduct from the amount insured in the policy the amount at six per cent. per annum of the premiums that had been forborne at the time of the death.

YOLO COUNTY DEMOCRAT.

National Democratic Platform.

The Democratic party in National Convention assembled, reposing its trust in the intelligence, patriotism and discriminating justice of the people, stand upon the Constitution as the foundation and limitation of the powers of the Government, and the guarantee of the liberties of the citizen, and recognizing the questions of slavery and secession as having been settled for all time to come by the war, or the volunteer action of the Southern States in Constitutional Conventions assembled, and never to be resuscitated, do, with the return of peace, demand:

First—The immediate restoration of all States to their rights in the Union under the Constitution of civil government and the American people.

Second—Amnesty for all past political offenses and the regulation of the elective franchise in the States by their citizens.

Third—The payment of the public debt of the United States as rapidly as practicable, all money drawn from the people by taxation, except so much as is requisite for the necessities of the Government economically administered, being honestly applied to such payment, and when the obligations of the Government do not expressly state upon their face or the law under which they were issued does not provide that they shall be paid in coin, they ought in right and in justice to be paid in the lawful money of the United States.

Fourth—Equal taxation of every species of property, according to value, including Government bonds and other public securities.

Fifth—One currency for the Government and the people, the laborer and the officeholder, the pensioner and the soldier, the producer and the bond-holder.

Sixth—Economy in the administration of the Government, the reduction of the standing army and navy, the abolition of the Freedmen's Bureau, and all political instrumentalities designed to serve negro supremacy; simplification of the system, and discontinuance of inquisitorial modes of assessing and collecting internal revenue; that the burden of taxation be equalized and lessened; the credit of the country made good; all enactments for the enrolling of the State militia into national forces in time of peace, and a tariff for revenue upon foreign imports; and such equal taxation under the internal revenue laws as will afford incidental protection to domestic manufactures as will, without impairing the revenue, impose the least burden upon and best promote and encourage the great industrial interests of the country.

Seventh—Reform of abuses in the administration; the expulsion of corrupt men from office; the abrogation of useless offices, the restoration of rightful authority to the independence of the Executive and Judicial Departments of the Government; the subordination of military to the civil power, to the end that the usurpation of Congress and despotism of the sword may cease.

Eighth—Equal rights and protection for naturalized and native born citizens at home and abroad; the assertion of American nationality which will command the respect of foreign powers, furnish an example and encouragement to people struggling for national integrity, constitutional liberty and individual rights, and the maintenance of the rights of naturalized citizens against the absolute doctrine of immutable allegiance and the claims of foreign powers to punish them for alleged crime committed beyond their jurisdiction. In demanding these measures and reforms we arraign the radical party for its disregard of right and the unparalleled opposition and tyranny which have worked its career. After the most solemn and unanimous pledge of both Houses of Congress to prosecute the war exclusively for the maintenance of the Government and the preservation of the Union under the Constitution, it has repeatedly violated that most sacred pledge under which was rallied that noble volunteer army which carried our flag to victory. Instead of restoring the Union it has so far as it is in its power dissolved it and subjected ten States, in time of profound peace, to military despotism and negro suffrage. It has nullified there the right of trial by jury; it has abolished the habeas corpus, that most sacred writ of liberty; it has overthrown the freedom of speech and the press; it has substituted arbitrary seizures and arrests, and military trials and secret Star Chamber inquisitions for constitutional tribunals. It has disregarded in time of peace the right of the people to be free from search and seizures. It has entered the post and telegraph offices, and even the private rooms of individuals, and seized their private papers and letters, without any specification or notice of affidavit, as required by the organic law. It has converted the American Capitol into a bastile. It has established a system of spies and official espionage to which no constitutional monarchy of Europe would now dare to resort. It has abolished the right of appeal on important constitutional questions to the supreme and judicial tribunal, and threatens to curtail or destroy its original jurisdiction, which is irrevocably vested by the Constitution, while the learned Chief Justice has been subject to great and atrocious calumnies merely because he would not prostitute his high office to the support of the false and partisan charges preferred against the President. Its corruption and extravagance have exceeded anything known in history, and by its frauds and monopolies it has nearly doubled the burden of the debt created during the war. It has stripped the President of his constitutional power of appointment, even of his own Cabinet. Under its repeated assaults the pillars of the Government are rocking on their base, and should it succeed in November next, and inaugurate its President, we will meet as a subjected and conquered people amid the ruins of liberty and the scattered fragments of the Constitution. And we do declare and resolve that ever since the people of the United States threw off all subjection to the British Crown, the privilege and trust of suffrage have belonged to the several States, and have been granted, regulated and controlled exclusively by the political power of each State respectively, and any attempt by Congress, on any pretext whatever, to deprive any State of this right, or interfere with this exercise, is a flagrant usurpation of power which can find no warrant in the Constitution, and if sanctioned by the people will subvert our form of Government, and can only end in a single centralized, consolidated government, in which the separate existence of the States will be absorbed, and an unqualified despotism be established in place of a Federal Union of co-equal States, and that we regard the reconstruction acts of Congress such usurpations, and unconstitutional, revolutionary and void.

That our soldiers and sailors, who carried the flag of our country to victory against a most gallant and determined foe, must be ever gratefully remembered, and all the guarantees given in their favor must be faithfully carried into execution.

That the public lands should be distributed as widely among the people and should be disposed of either under the pre-emption of homestead laws, and sold in reasonable quantities, and to none but actual occupants, at the minimum price established by the Government. When grants of the public lands may be allowed necessary for the encouragement of important public improvements, the proceeds of such lands, and not the lands themselves, should be applied.

That the President of the United States, Andrew Johnson, exercising the power of his office in restricting the aggression of Congress on the constitutional rights of the States and the people, is entitled to the gratitude of the whole American people, and on behalf of the Democratic party we tender him our thanks for his patriotic efforts in that regard.

Upon this platform the Democratic party appeal to every patriot, including all the conservative elements, and all who desire to support the Constitution and restore the Union, forgetting all past differences of opinion, to unite with us in the present great struggle for the liberties of the people; and that to all such, to whatever party they may have heretofore belonged, we extend the right hand of fellowship, and hail all such as friends and brothers.

NERVOUS AFFECTIONS.

The shapes of the clouds and the trees do not differ more widely than the forms of nervous disease. Sometimes both the mind and body are affected, sometimes the body only, and often the complaint is confined to a single member. In one class of cases the motive nerves alone are disordered, as in St. Vitus' Dance; in another class the nerves of sensation only are attacked, as in neuralgia, tic douloureux, toothache, ear-ache, &c. Pain is, in fact, the immediate consequence of a disturbed condition of the nervous system; for only through the delicate fibers of which it is composed can pain be experienced. Tremors, hysteria, and most of the unpleasant feelings usually included under the head of nervousness, arise from the weakness of these sensitive threads which pervade every part of the animal structure and have their source in the fountain head of all sensation—the brain. The tonic action of HOSTETTER'S BITTERS is of vast service in cases of this kind. Nervous headache, ordinary face-ache, neuralgic pains and every variety of spasmodic torture, are quickly alleviated by the use of the preparation which at once braces and tranquilizes the nerves. Persons of a limphatic temperament and feeble organization are especially subject to these complaints, and should take the Bitters daily as an invigorant. Ladies will derive great benefit from them in all the peculiar physical and mental disturbances to which, as a sex, they are subject. Asafœtida, valerain, and the other nervines usually prescribed for these affections, at best merely alleviate them for the time being; but the Bitters are a permanent invigorant, and their value as a remedy for every phase of nervousness is beyond all estimate.

Constitutional Weakness.

It is a great thing to have a sound and vigorous constitution. There is nothing that money can buy comparable in value to this best gift of nature. The difference between the individual who has it and the unfortunate who has it not, is just the difference between the man who goes into battle clothed in defensive armor and one who has nothing to oppose to sword and bullet but his naked breast. "The pestilence that walketh in darkness, the sickness that destoyeth at noonday," while it lays low the man of feeble stamina, is often conquered by the native strength of what is called an "iron constitution."

Heaven, however, has not endowed even a moiety of mankind with this inestimable blessing, and therefore it behooves those who have it not, to resort to those most efficient means of constitutional invigoration which science can supply. There is good warrant for asserting that HOSTETTER'S BITTERS are admirably adapted to promote this end. Other tonics have their drawbacks. The concentrated extract of poisonous vegetable substances, which within the last few years have been introduced into the practice of medicine as invigorants, are all extremely dangerous. Prussic acid and strychnine, though often given as strengthening medicines, are not safe even in the diminutive doses; and quinine disastrously affects the nerves and the bones. But in HOSTETTER'S BITTERS there is positively nothing that is not healthful and wholesome. They contain no ingredient which by any process could be converted into an active poison, and yet as a constitutional stimulant are infinitely preferable to any of the sulphates and acetates which have been recently added to the materia medica.

The Government Countersign.

The counterfeiting of Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is now a somewhat more serious as well as difficult business than it was a few years ago, each bottle of the genuine article being authenticated by the official endorsement of the United States Revenue Department in the form of a stamp engraved on steel, the counterfeit of which is a felony. See, therefore, that this Government Countersign, as well as the engraved label and note of hand of the proprietors, is attached to the bottle. The lable is embellished with a superb representation of St. George on horseback, in the act of spearing the Dragon, and underneath is a shield or escutcheon, bearing a warning inscription, which counterfeiters are advised to read before they encounter the penalty which it sets forth. Below this again is Hostetter & Smith's note of hand, the signature to which it would be rather a serious business to forge. If the public will look to these verifications of the genuineness of the article before they purchase, they cannot be deceived. The proprietary lable and Government stamp are both executed on steel in the most elaborate style of bank-note engraving, and are probably the most expensive specimen of graphic art ever attached to any medical preparation.

PREPARED AND SOLD BY HOSTETTER & SMITH,
PITTSBURG, PA.

PITTSBURG, Sept. 4, 1866.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith, Pittsburg, Pa.—Gents—I think I am only doing the part of a good citizen when I testify to the great benefits received by me from the use of your Stomach Bitters during the last five years. Sojourning for a short time in the oil regions, in 1861, I had a severe billious attack, which, in connection with dyspepsia, left me in a very weak condition. I was advised to try your Bitters, and, having procured a bottle, found that they worked like a charm upon me, eight pounds having been added to my weight in the space of one week, and new life seemed to have been infused into my system—so much so, that I have been induced to use them every Summer since that time. As a tonic, I think they are invaluable. This Summer, having a similar attack (and as before, much reduced), although under the treatment of an A No. 1 physician, I was again obliged to have recourse to the old Bitters, and with the same good result, having gained six pounds within a few days. I purchased a half dozen bottles a few weeks since, and propose to use them regularly as a tonic.

Wishing you every success, I remain
Yours, gratefully, WM. MILLER.

FRANKLIN, Clinton Co., Ind., Dec. 2, 1861.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents—Some 18 months since I was troubled with weakness of the stomach, and had lost my appetite, and, on the recommendation of Dr. Cox, our family physician, I purchased several bottles of your Bitters, which had the desired effect of restoring me to health. But of late I have not been able to obtain the Bitters in our place. Please inform me where I can purchase them, or if you will send me some on sale, I will be pleased to have the agency, as I can recommend them to be what they are represented.

Yours truly, JOHN F. HUTCHINSON.

ELDERTON, Pa., Nov. 6, 1865.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gentlemen—We have been selling your Stomach Bitters for 18 months, and find them an excellent medicine. All that is necessary is to let the people know their virtue and they will use them. I have tried them myself, and now recommend them to all who have weak stomachs. Respectfully yours,
WATTERSON & McPHERSON, Druggists.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gents—It is with the greatest pleasure that I recommend your Stomach Bitters to the public. I think it the best Bitters of the day. It is especially adapted to the South and West, where biliary derangements of the liver are prevalent. Ten years' experience in the use of compounds as curatives, compels me to give your Bitters the preference that its popularity merits.

A. ANGLE, M. D.

GALLATIA, Saline Co., Ill.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gentlemen—I have practiced medicine for many years, and have used your Bitters in a number of cases with great success, and take pleasure in recommending them to the public in general.

Very respectfully, J. SMITH, M. D.

MATTOON, Ill., Jan. 21, 1865.

Messrs. Hostetter & Smith—Gentlemen—I sell more of your Stomach Bitters than of any other medicine. Parties who have tried them speak in very high praise of their excellent virtues. I have used them myself, and prescribe them with unparalleled success. Very respectfully yours, G. T. GILNER, M. D.

HELMBOLD'S BUCHU.

The only Known Remedy

—FOR—

Diabetes, Irritation of the Neck of the Bladder, Inflamation of the Kidneys, Catarrh of the Bladder, &c., &c., &c.

For these diseases, it is truly a sovereign remedy, and too much cannot be said in its praise. A single dose has been known to relieve the most urgent symptoms. Are you troubled with that disgusting pain in the small of the back and through the hips? A teaspoonful a day of Helmbold's Buchu will relieve you.

Physicians and Others

PLEASE NOTICE.

I make no secret of ingredients. Helmbold's Extract Buchu is composed of Buchu, Cubebs and Juniper Berries, selected with care, prepared in vacuo and according to the rules of Pharmacy and Chemistry.

These ingredients are known as the most valuable Diuretics afforded. A Diuretic is that which acts upon the Kidneys. Helmbold's Extract Buchu acts gently. It is pleasant in taste and odor, free from all injurious properties, and immediate in its action. For the satisfaction of all, see Medical Properties contained in Dispensatory of the United States, of which the following is a correct copy:

"BUCHU. Its odor is strong, diffusive and somewhat aromatic, its taste bitterish, and analogous to that of mint. It is given chiefly in complaints of the Urinary Organs, such as Gravel, chronic catarrh of the Bladder, morbid irritation of the Bladder and Uretha, diseases of the Prostrate, and Retention or Incontinence of Urine, from a loss of tone in the parts concerned in its evacuation. It has also been recommended in Dyspepsia, chronic Rheumatism, cutaneous affections and Dropsy."

For further information see Professor Dewees' valuable works on the Practice of Physic. See remarks made by the celebrated Dr. Physic, of Philadelphia. See any and all standard works on Medicine.

Dr. Keyser is a physician of over thirty years' experience, and a graduate of the Jefferson Medical college and of the University of Medicine and Surgery of Philadelphia:

Mr. H. T. HELMBOLD—Dear Sir: In regard to the question asked me as to my opinion about Buchu, I would say that I have used and sold the article in various forms for the past thirty years. I do not think there is any form or preparation of it I have not used or known to be used, in the various diseases where such medicate agent would be indicated. You are aware, as well as myself, that it has been extensively employed in the various diseases of the bladder and kidneys; and the reputation it has acquired, in my judgment, is warranted by the facts. I have seen and used, as before stated, every form of Buchu—the powdered leaves, the simple decoction, tincture fluid extracts; and I am not cognizant of any preparation of that plant at all equal to yours. Eighteen years' experience ought, I think, to give me the right to judge of its merits, and without prejudice or partiality I give yours precedence over all others. I value your Buchu for its effects on patients. I have cured with it, and seen cured with it, more diseases of the bladder and kidneys than I have ever seen cured with any other Buchu, or any other proprietory compound of whatever name. Respectfully yours, etc.,
GEO. H. KEYSER, M. D., 140 Wood st.
Pittsburg, Pa., August 11, 1865.

HELMBOLD'S FLUID EXTRACT BUCHU.

FROM THE LARGEST MANUFACTURING CHEMIST IN THE WORLD.

I am acquainted with H. T. Helmbold; he occupies the drug store opposite my residence, and was successful in conducting the business where others had not been equally so before him. I have been favorably impressed with his character and enterprise. WM. WRIGHTMAN, (firm of Powers & Weightman), Manufacturing chemists, Ninth and Brown streets, Phila.

The proprietor has been induced to make this statement from the fact that his remedies, although advertised, are genuine preparations, and knowing that the intelligent refrain from using anything pertaining to Quackery, or the Patent Medicine order—most of which are prepared by self-styled doctors, who are too ignorant to read a physicians' simplest prescription, much less competent to prepare Pharmaceutical preparations. These parties resort to various means of effecting sales, such as copying parts of advertisements of popular remedies and finishing with certificates. The science of medicine stands simple, pure and majestic, having fact for its basis, induction for its pillar, truth alone for its capital.

A Word of Caution.

Health is most important; and the afflicted should not use an advertised medicine, or any remedy, unless its contents or ingredients are known to others besides the manufacturer, or until they are satisfied of the qualifications of the party so offering.
